By The Associated Press

Soviet Russia today denounced its neutrality pact with Japan, accusing Tokyo of helping Germany to war against Russia.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov handed a note to the Japanese ambassador at 3 P. M., said the broadcast.

The pact was signed in April, 1941, and whether Russia would denounce it before the opening of the World Security Conference at San Francisco April 25 had been a subject of speculation.

The Soviet note emphasized at the outset that "the pact of neutrality between the Soviet Union and Japan was concluded on April 13, 1941—that is before the attack by Germany on the U. S. S. R., and before the outbreak of war between Japan on the one hand and Great Britain and the United States on the other.

"Since that time the situation has radically changed," the note said. "Germany attacked the U. S. S. R. and Japan—Germany's Ally—helps the latter in her war against the U. S. S. R."

The note was handed the Japanese ambassador at 3 P. M., today in the midst of a new Japanese cabinet crisis.

The treaty ordinarily would have run until April, 1946. The denouncement becomes effective April 13, just 12 days before the opening of the San Francisco conference.

The Moscow announcement said Japan's Ambassador Naotake Saoto had "promised to bring the declaration of the Soviet government to the attention of the Japanese government."

There was no indication in the Moscow announcement of Russia's intentions in future relations with Japan. However, Premier Marshal Stalin has publicly described Japan as "an

What would you charge for painting the 70-foot 8-inch flag pole in front of the city building? The pole was painted this week, and at the meeting of city council, before the session opened, there was a little guessing as to what the painting cost.

The guesses ranged all the way from $12 to $35, and then City Manager Walter Stambaugh informed council the cost was $5.

It seems that Earl Genheimer, Pomeroy, professional flag pole painter, appeared at the city building, asked for the job of painting the pole, furnishing the paint, and doing a first class job.

He said he would do the work for five bucks, and immediately got the job.

With a little board and rope arrangement for climbing the pole and coming down by reversing the procedure, he was soon at the top of the pole and in less than two hours the job was finished, he had collected the $5 and was headed for the next flagpole that needed paint.

It seems that flag pole painting is one piece of work where the ceiling price is not higher than the flagpole!

Birds, like wide-awake human beings, are very careful what goes into the construction of their homes.

I have studied the nests of many kinds of birds, and have been amazed at the ingenuity of the little nest builders, in constructing a durable nest and lining it carefully so that they may rear their young in safety.

I have seen the tiny nests of the ruby-throated hummingbird, and massive nests of sticks built by hawks and other large birds, as well as the few scattered pebbles and fragments of wood used by the killedeer in a shallow place on the ground. All of the nests have been intensely interesting.

Yesterday as I stepped from Haver's Drug Store a fragment of newspaper fluttered down. Part of it was soaked in oil. I glanced up and saw it had been discarded by an English sparrow that was building a nest.

Apparently the sparrow had not noticed as it hurriedly gathered up the paper, that it was partly soaked in oil, but when it reached its nest and was ready to add it to the nest, it realized that an oil-soaked fragment of paper would prevent the eggs from hatching, and the paper was discarded accordingly.

CASUALTIES RISE 20,047 IN WEEK

Total for Army and Navy Now Is 892,909

WASHINGTON, April 5—(AP)—Army and Navy casualties since the beginning of the war have reached 892,909.

Secretary of War Stimson today reported Army losses of 798,383 while the Navy listed its casualties at 94,526. The total represented an increase of 20,047 since last week's announcement.

Stimson said the Army casualties represented names compiled here through March 27 and reflected fighting up to the early part of March.

A breakdown on Army casualties:

Killed 156,471, wounded 486,929, missing 88,755, prisoners 66,138.

Figures for the Navy: Killed 36,649, wounded 42,988, missing 10,623, prisoners 4,266.

Stimson also estimated Japanese casualties in the Philippines at more than 311,000, including 187,799 counted dead, against total U. S. casualties of 36,981, including 8,138 killed.

BUDGET BATTLE IN LEGISLATURE IS WARMING UP

Senate Ignores Governor's Recommendation To Vote For Daniels Bill

By E. E. EASTERLY

COLUMBUS, April 5—(AP)—A fight to keep the budget balanced was on Gov. Frank J. Lausche's hands today after the Ohio Senate disregarded his recommendations and voted an extra $6,780,000 for public schools.

The 1945-46 budget of $425,069,663 included a proposed appropriation of $104,220,000 for operating expenses in the school foundation program, the device by which the state guarantees aid to local school districts.

The Senate yesterday passed, 27 to 4, a bill providing $111,000,000 for the schools. If the House should add its approval, four courses would be open for keeping the state's over-all expenditure in line with revenue:

1. Lausche could veto the bill;
2. The Legislature or governor could cut $6,780,000 from recommended appropriations of other departments to make up for the schools' increase;

3. The Legislature could dip into the $72,500,000 in surplus funds which Lausche suggests be set aside for post-war emergencies, or
4. Revenue of the state might exceed the governor's estimates to the extent of covering the schools' extra allotment.

Governor Lausche told newspaper men he thought course No. 2 would be chosen. While he feels the estimates of revenue are extremely liberal, some senators think income might run $10,000,000 higher than the governor figures.

CURFEW SHOWDOWN COMING IN TOLEDO

Union To Apply Pressure If Theater Stays Open

TOLEDO, April 5—(AP)—The curfew did not ring at the non-conforming Loop Theater last midnight, only because Mrs. Jack O'Connell, wife of the owner, knew how to operate a picture projector.

The Loop's operator walked out at midnight despite a temporary court order restraining the AFL alliance of theatrical stage employees and motion picture operators from withdrawing the all-night theater's early morning projectionist.

O'Connell's wife ran off all reels of "Isle Of Forgotten Men" and "The Master Race."

John B. Fitzgerald of Cleveland, international representative of the operator's alliance, had announced the union would call out the Loop's operators if O'Connell continued to ignore the nation's amusement curfew as he has done since March 19.

Stimson said the Army casualties represented names compiled here through March 27 and reflected fighting up to the early part of March.

Formal Surrender By Nazis Unlikely Eisenhower Asserts

Extensive Guerilla Warfare in Europe Foreseen by Supreme Allied Commander, But He Notified President Measures Planned To Prevent Control of Any Large Area; No Details Given, However

WASHINGTON, April 5—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has informed President Roosevelt that "a clean cut military surrender" of the Nazis is improbable.

In a letter to the Chief Executive, released by the White House today, the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe foresaw extensive guerrilla warfare.

He said he was hopeful of launching operations at the proper time that "should partially prevent a guerrilla control of any large area, such as the southern mountain bastion."

On the basis of past performances by German armed forces, Eisenhower said it was likely "a V-E Day will come about only by a proclamation on our part rather than by any definite and decisive collapse or surrender of German resistance."

Such a proclamation, if it does come, the White House said, probably would be issued by Eisenhower.

"The further this campaign progresses," Eisenhower said, "the more probable it appears that there will never be a clean cut military surrender of the forces on the Western Front. Our experience to date is that even when formations as small as a division are disrupted, their fragments continue to fight until surrounded."

The general visualized a condition which would mean that eventually all areas in which fragments of the German army, particularly Paratrooper, Panzer and SS elements may be located, will have to be taken "by the application of or the threat of force."

This, he said, would lead to a form of guerrilla warfare which would require a large number of troops to suppress.

JOB FOR SOLOMON!

NEWPORT, Ky., April 5—(AP)—Carl Peters put it up to the courts today to determine whether his wife is a mother.

Suing Mrs. Mildred Peters for divorce, charging cruelty, Peters said "I only want to know about the baby." His petition filed yesterday said he was without proof that there was a child, and asked the court to prove or disprove its existence.

Thrice-wedded Mrs. Peters disappeared at the door of a hospital maternity ward March 26. She returned home Tuesday insisting her baby had been born and was well, but giving no specific clue to its whereabouts.

Stimson said the Army casualties represented names compiled here through March 27 and reflected fighting up to the early part of March.

THOUSANDS FLEE BEFORE FLOODS

Crest of Mississippi Still Far From New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 5—(AP)—A crest still several days away, the rampaging Red River, troublesome Mississippi tributary, has driven thousands of families from their homes in Louisiana.

While this situation taxed relief agencies, army engineers kept a 24-hour patrol on all main line levees of the flooded Mississippi from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf.

Within the next few days the engineers expect to blast open the Morganza floodway to relieve pressure on the lower Mississippi and divert the waters through the 1,000 square mile Atchafalaya basin.

After Germans Beaten, What? Moving Yank Troops From Europe to Jap War To Be Big Job

By ELTON C. FAY AND JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, April 5—(AP)—The United States Army will begin history's biggest single moving job on V-E Day.

It will be bigger than the task of getting Eisenhower to Berlin. It will take months longer than the year required to move the AEF home from Europe after World War I.

The Army in Europe is not just coming home. Most of it is going on, 13,000 miles from the battlefields of Germany, to finish the war with Japan.

This is the core of what the American high command's redeployment problems. Men and supplies cannot begin to leave Europe until Germany is completely defeated, and they cannot begin arriving in the Philippines (or wherever else they will go out there) until bases and camps are ready to receive them.

When the generals started making plans to close out business in Europe they came up against this still unanswered question: When and how will the war with Germany end?

A German surrender would give us a clean break in Europe. We would not need to leave men to mop up Nazi Guerrillas.

But the war may drag on through weary months of lessening enemy resistance. If this happens, the Allied powers will have to decide when they have won the war and proclaim that a certain day is V-E Day.

At that time the American high command will order into effect one of the various detailed plans for reorganizing its divisions in Europe and transporting them out of the theater, except those to be left in Germany.

The generals and admirals will have to take into account the state of war against Japan.

If the island of Luzon, in the Philippines, is the largest mass of land we hold out there, most or all of the troops from Europe will go to Luzon. But if Japan or China have been invaded by then, they might go more directly to those battle areas.

The routes by which they will go and the general time schedules can be told now:

The first troops out of Europe will be for the most part service (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Yanks Tighten Blockade Of Stolen Jap Empire

By the Associated Press

Masbate, sugar-rich little central Philippine island, was overrun Tuesday by Maj. Gen. Rapp Brush's 40th Division and its capital liberated while Philippine-based bombers ravaged Japanese-occupied Hong Kong across the China Sea.

Both actions were announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who declared Japan's lifeline to the East Indies was severed by a chain of American air bases stretching more than 1,000 miles from Luzon to recently seized Tawi Tawi at the southern tip of the Sulu archipelago 30 miles from Borneo.

After seizing Masbate City, Doughboys with the help of guerrilla forces moved rapidly to secure the entire island, the communiqué said. They met negligible opposition.

Masbate guards the western approach to San Bernardino Strait, between Luzon and Samar. It is the 36th invaded island in the archipelago.

As evidence of his blockade, heavy bombers made their first concerted strike against Hong Kong, setting off numerous explosions and fires in the harbor area. Other aircraft ranged from Formosa, down the China coast, across invasion-threatened Borneo to the Dutch Indies, destroyed or damaged 28 small Nipponese ships.

Another 28 vessels were knocked out by American carrier planes raiding the Amami islands at the northern end of the Ryukyu chain, linking Japan and Formosa. These also knocked out 56 enemy planes which have been trying (Please Turn to Page Two)

Four Yanks Elude Japs By Hiding in Island Cave

It had obtained the information about Japanese strength and positions on Simara Island needed before an amphibious assault could be launched. But at the moment of withdrawal it had been discovered.

Simara is a pin-point island. Escape in daylight was impossible

FALL OF VIENNA IMMINENT WITH REDS CLOSING IN

Yanks and British Smash to Weser River and Squeeze Nazis in Ruhr Trap

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

(By the Associated Press)
British and American tanks and infantry battled shoulder to shoulder today on a solid 40-mile front in north Germany, bludgeoning their way to the Weser River, next to the last water barrier to Berlin. They are within 23 miles of the Prussian stronghold of Hanover, which the Germans appeared to be evacuating in a retreat to the Elbe River which flows within 50 miles of Berlin.

Red Army troops poured across the Danube from the area of captured Bratislava to join the assault on Vienna. Encirclement of the city seemed imminent as Soviet forces jockeyed for an attack from the northeast, west and southwest. Red troops captured a suburb 1½ miles from the city limits after crumbling what Moscow called the strongest anti-tank line before Vienna, and the fall of Bratislava after a 24-hour siege intensified the assault.

Great tank battles were being fought in the suburbs of the city of 1,900,000. Moscow said. The famous Deer Park had been converted by the Germans into an artillery position from which enemy batteries fell upon Russian tanks.

In the north German assault American troops were 23 miles from Hanover, a great communications center.

Ahead of the Third Army's drive in central Germany heavy bombers hit Plauen, rail center near the Czechoslovak border. More than 1,200 heavies and 600 fighters were out. They also plastered ordnance depots, rail targets and airfields in the Munich and Nuernberg areas of the southern Reich.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the 12th Army group, reassumed command of the U. S. ## EXECUTION NO SHOW FRAZIER REAMS SAYS

Requests To See Three Die Are Being Denied

COLUMBUS, April 5—(AP)—The execution at Ohio Penitentiary tomorrow night of three persons convicted of fatally beating an aged Cincinnati jeweler will not be "a show for the curious," Welfare Director Frazier Reams said today.

He reported receiving a large number of requests for permission to attend the electrocutions and said most of them would be denied. Slated to be electrocuted are Johnnie Mae Gardner, 21; Cook Jenkins, 24, and James Willie Boland, 27. All were convicted of killing Jacob Reinstalter, 73, last April during a hold-up of his jewelry store.

American Girl War Correspondent Gets Caught in Spy Dragnet and Learns a Lot

By RUTH COWAN

ON THE RIVIERA, April 5—(AP)—This is truly a land where anything can happen.

It's a land of secrets everybody knows, where you speak double-talk; a land of spies spying on spies, and more fun to watch than a circus.

You can play a game by starting to spy on a chap who is spying on another fellow. After a while you say "Boo" to the lad

Several persons, including a woman speaking French, were ushered past and into another room. My host returned and said, "I must ask you to leave quickly. It just wouldn't do for an American war correspondent to be seen here."

While I was wondering what it was all about another man came in and said, "Please follow me quickly." I went to a side gate in the garden and through a lane to the main road.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Germany's strategic positions on the western front are being liquidated with amazing rapidity. Every hour giving fresh proof that organized Hitlerite resistance on a major scale in that theater is a thing of the past.

There still remains big jobs for Supreme Commanded Eisenhower's forces to do, and among the most important are the liberation of Holland and capture of the Reich's North Sea ports of Emden, Bremen and Hamburg. Indications now are that the Boche will try to withdraw from most of Holland but will make a stand in the great commercial ports of Amsterdam and Rotterdam, just as they plan to hang onto their own North Sea harbors.

The point of the German resistance at these places is to deprive the Allies of the use of the ports and thus cause delay and stave off the day of execution a bit.

The Germans are withdrawing, or have withdrawn, many of their troops from Holland and British forces are smashing northward along the Ems River toward Emden to close the gap along the Dutch-German border through which the Nazis are escaping. Undoubtedly the great majority of the Nazi forces have got out, but the Germans are expected to retain several divisions to make a stand at Rotterdam and Amsterdam.

Garrisons holding these two great Dutch cities will be suicide forces, expected to hang on so long as possible without hope of escape. This has been a favorite trick of the Nazis.

They still are holding several isolated harbors, including Lorient and St. Nazaire, which stood off capture at the time of the invasion of Normandy. Probably the same scheme will be followed at Emden, Bremen, Hamburg and other important North Sea harbors.

The liberation of Holland is doubly important because of the plight of the unfortunate Dutch folk who have been reduced to terrible straits of privation. Much of their country is flooded and the food situation is grave indeed.

From the Canadian forces driving northward into Holland in the Deventer sector we learn today that apart from all other difficulties, the Boche have been stripping Holland of food and shipping it into Germany. The Hitlerites have been stopping shipments of food from the agricultural areas of Holland to great cities like Amsterdam, Rotterdam and the Hague and have utilized it for their own purpose.

Holland is in dire need of relief. That will be provided at the earliest possible moment, but from the front today come the warning that Allied forces cannot be expected to liberate the Dutch cities overnight. It may take some time if the Germans carry out their plan of making Dunkerques out of places like Rotterdam and Amsterdam.

Another important reason for clearing Holland is to wipe out launching site of the V-bombs which the German have been ending against London and other British place. That is one of the tasks in which the Canadians now are engaged, and it would appear that great success has been achieved, since for about a week the bombs have ceased to fall on England.

TEACHERS MEET IS APRIL 13 AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Senator Roscoe Walcott To Be Speaker at Annual Luncheon Session

Teachers in the city and county April 13 will get together for a luncheon meeting of the Fayette County Teachers Association in the Marshall Grange Hall in Jeffersonville when Roscoe Walcott of Columbus, an attorney and a state senator, is scheduled to be the speaker.

The April 13 date will be Walcott's second appearance before the association. He also was a speaker for a recent Madison Mills commencement.

In the business session of the meeting, a discussion of the Daniels-Creamer school foundation bill is scheduled. Kenneth Craig, city-county president said. Nominations for new officers also are to be made at the meeting.

Both city and county school systems will dismiss the afternoon of April 13. It was said. Most schools probably will dismiss shortly before noon to give teachers time to reach the Grange Hall by 12 noon slow time. The luncheon is 75 cents but most teachers already have paid for their meal in the form of dues collected last fall. Guest charges are 75 cents each.

The county superintendent's office is to be notified by Friday of the number of teachers and guests who will attend from each school.

DR. G. A. HANDLEY PUT ON COMMITTEE

Plans Made To Go to Meeting Of Real Estate Association

Dr. G. A. Handley today was making plans to attend the last day's session of the two-day meeting of the Ohio Real Estate Association which opens in Columbus next Monday.

Dr. Handley has just been notified that he had been appointed to the association's housing committee which was scheduled to meet Tuesday morning in the Desher Wallick Hotel. The appointment was made by Douglass G. High of Cincinnati, president of the association. Carl Wise of Canton is the committee chairman.

The letter accompanying his notification said "many important matters are scheduled for discussion in connection with the work of the committee and a full attendance is imperative in order that a complete report can be presented to the executive committee for action." Dr. Handley said he "had no idea" what the important matters referred to were.

A veterinarian, Dr. Handley came here from Eaton about eight years ago to practice his profession. The following year he took the real estate examination, he said, and got his state license. He divides his time between his two vocations.

Out of the Past

America's Greatest Educators of Three Rs

(Editor's Note: There is a rich store of comedy and drama secure in the history of Fayette County. Frank DeWitt, who has lived here nearly four score years and knows possibly as many of the old-time generations as anyone else, has agreed to tell some of the absorbing stories of the past for Record-Herald readers. They will appear from time to time.)

By FRANK DEWITT

The generations of Ohio that knew the meaning of the three R's were indebted to William Holmes McGuffey who taught them to read; to Pratt Spencer who taught them to write, and to Joseph Ray who taught them arithmetic. All of these three great educators were Buckeyes and contemporaries, having been born in the year 1800 and lived at a time when their contributions did much to shape the generations that made America great.

1—McGuffey:
No single individual in America did more to build patriotism and character in the youth of the nation than did the author of the McGuffey textbook, which, if properly named, would be called the "American Bible."

Born in a log hut in Pennsylvania he came with his parents to Ohio when a mere child. He received the rudiments of his education in "The Little Red School House." Later, as professor at Miami University, he wrote the first series of his readers. He was ordained minister in the Presbyterian Church, and was president of Cincinnati College, professor of Woodward College and professor at the university at Virginia.

One hundred million Americans studied his readers. Thirty seven states used them as textbooks, of which 122,000,000 were published. For this tremendous work McGuffey received the sum of $1,000. Had he received one cent per copy, it would have netted him $1,220,000.

Life meant more to this great teacher than piling up a fortune. His great desire was to mould the mind of young America in true patriotism, exemplified by strong character, and the generations he taught made America one of the strongest nations in the world.

2—Spencer:
Born in Dutchess County, N. Y., and was the youngest of a family of eleven children. After the death of his father he migrated to Ohio in a covered wagon which required fifty-one days. He settled at Jefferson, Ohio. Spencer began life with practically no schooling but so developed his natural gifts that his name became known in every public school.

He was an adept student of nature. From his early youth he had a fond reverence for elegant and beautiful writing, which in his later years became the passion of his life and made him famous throughout the English-speaking world.

The free and easy rhythm which he applied to writing is known in many parts of the world as The Spencerian System of Penmanship.

The whole arm and muscular, instead of finger movement, was used in this system for forming capital and small letters. Numbers of writing schools were held at night throughout the country in teaching this system. I became quite proficient in my attendance of some of these schools, and made a special art of it in the different schools I taught.

Every "Little Red School House" in the middle west at one time carried a stock of the famous copy books which contained samples of his penmanship which can today be classed as one of the lost arts.

3—Joseph Ray:
Very little is known of this eminent Ohioan, except that he was a teacher and published in various places and published several works on arithmetic and algebra. The teaching of mathematics will always form an important part in our educational program. Many pupils who stand well in other subjects find great difficulty in mastering arithmetic.

Many mature minds today look back with pleasure to the formation of logical ideas and easy approaches to mathematics in their school days, as was explained in Ray's arithmetics and algebras that were in use in "The Little Red School House."

So, here you have the history of the three R's: "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic." The foundation of our education, evolved from those pioneer days.

The perfection with which every need of pioneer time was filled indicates that the forces of a great destiny were at work guiding and directing the first sturdy strokes that shaped the mold out of which sprang the great state of Ohio.

The greyhound is notable for its swiftness.

CANADIAN ROLE CLEARED IN JAPANESE FIGHTING

OTTAWA, April 5—(AP)—The role to be played by Canada in the Pacific war grew clearer today with disclosure that the dominion intends to send two cruisers, two aircraft carriers and a number of destroyers and frigates against Japan after the war with Germany has ended.

The Canadian units will comprise "a good deal more than a mere token force," Navy Minister Angus McDonald told the House of Commons last night.

By the end of 1940, Britain had lost 900 ships, totaling more than 3,000,000 tons.

Trapped Desperadoes

The Nazi leaders are acting like cornered rats. Their crimes have caught up with them. Having failed in their plot to rule Europe, they are eager to destroy it if they can. They threaten their own duped followers with ruin and terror. In their fanatical egotism they are prepared to destroy Germany itself.

The sane world is horrified but ready for the challenge. If the Nazi Germans are ready to go to such extremes, so be it. The orgies of crime and madness started by Hitler will run their course, and eventually a sane Germany may emerge. But before that time comes, German blood may pour out like water, and a gifted but still semi-barbarous nation will go through hell. Charitable observers may well pity its death throes, but must insist relentlessly on cleansing western and central Europe by destroying its master-criminals and controlling their fanatical followers.

The threat of German leaders to hold their power by "crucifying in their own windows" any followers who try to escape from the horrors the Nazis have created is an eloquent proof of the madness into which they have fallen. God help the few more decent and intelligent members to escape from the pit which the many have dug for themselves and their neighbors! They are reaping the final fruits of the "schrecklichkeit" into which they fell in their mad efforts to dominate a sane world.

Ideas About Cancer

Cancer is the major American health problem. The death rate has more than doubled from 1900 to 1944, says the Census Bureau, with last year's mortality increasing over that of 1943. No wonder that President Roosevelt has set aside April as "Cancer Control Month."

The Gallup poll shows the quaint notions that are still held by many people. One fifth of the people think cancer contagious, another fifth are afraid that it may be. Still others attribute it to such odd causes as too much salt, eating raw pork, horse bite, cooking in porcelain pots, eating peas from tin cans, gold teeth, eating seeds, and elements in the air. Till such notions are rooted out, laymen cannot cooperate intelligently with physicians in detecting cancer early enough to cure it.

Fortunately more persons now recognize that, if attacked early enough, it may be cured.

Predicting Weather

"June 30th will be a good day for the church picnic. It's not going to rain then." Such long-range forecasts should be perfectly possible, according to Dr. Charles G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, who has been foretelling the weather by observing the variations in the sun's heat. Not the heat received on earth, which anyone can measure, but what actually leaves the sun, which has variations too minute for anyone but Dr. Abbot to record.

Not only the weather of the next few months, but that of years to come, falls within his sphere of prophecy. The years 1975 and 2050 will, he says, bring such intense drought as to lower materially the Weather has usually been something that caught the world unawares. It should be possible to be better prepared for it, and indeed meteorology has made immense gains in the last few years. If Dr. Abbot is on the right track, mankind will call him blessed.

Amazons

One of the most surprising bits of war news lately has been the report from Germany that women and girls were attacking American infantry with grenades and bazookas, and sniping in house-to-house fighting.

If this is at all characteristic of Nazi procedure, the conquest of the Fatherland, although it cannot be long delayed, will be sadder than the Allies have expected. We are not accustomed to fighting women, and have no desire to become so, and hope that the Nazi leaders will have enough decency to keep their women-folk out of the tragic struggle now developing. But decency is one thing the Nazis have taught us not to expect from them.

Land of Heroes

Part of the late David Lloyd George's success as a war leader came from his improving the living conditions of the ordinary man. Heavier taxation was imposed on the great landed estates, making possible old age pensions and health insurance. He always had in the back of his mind the goal which he announced in the 1918 election, to make Great Britain "a land fit for heroes." This stand added to his strength as a leader.

Hop on Helicopters

Soon the railroad or plane traveller may find it advantageous to live away from the main road. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, according to its president, Ralph Budd, proposes after the war to pick up such travellers by helicopter. He told the examiners of the Civil Aeronautics Board that the helicopters would land on the present railroad station grounds.

To save time, they might follow the practice of mail trains gathering mailbags at stations where no stop is made, and scoop up the passengers with a large hook.

Effects of a New Diet Upon High Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Persons with high blood pressure, it is not unusual for damage to the kidneys to occur as a result. A condition called chronic nephritis, which is a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, often may develop. A variety of treatments has been utilized for this condition of high blood pressure with chronic kidney disease.

Recently, a new type of diet has been employed, and it seems to have met with a great deal of success. The diet consists of rice, fruit juices, sugar, and preparations to supply iron and all of the necessary vitamins which the doctor will prescribe.

As the patient's condition improves, the physician modifies the diet by adding vegetables (with the exception of beans and peas), eggs, and small amounts of beef, liver, or chicken.

Unless the patient is informed of the importance of this diet, there may be certain objections to it. To begin with, it is monotonous. They may complain that it does not taste good, and it must be continued for a long period of time before results are obtained. Furthermore, the patient cannot add foods to the diet according to his tastes. Then, too, it is best, as a rule, to have the patient in the hospital for a period of time until he becomes regulated to the diet.

Nevertheless, in view of the good results obtained, all of these objections may be ignored. Doctor Walter Kempner of Duke University School of Medicine used this diet in treating 150 patients. Included in the 150 were 18 who were critically ill when the diet was started. All of these 18 succeeded to their disorder. The diet failed to give any beneficial results in 41 cases but about three-fourths of the total group were aided to a great extent. In many instances a decrease in the blood pressure was noted. The amount of protein in the blood was reduced to normal levels. In chronic kidney disease the blood proteins are often elevated above normal. Furthermore, it was noted that in many of the patients who had enlarged hearts, a decrease in the size of the heart resulted.

Frequently, patients with high blood pressure have bleeding into the back part of the eyeball, known as retinal hemorrhage. Furthermore, there may be swelling of the tissue around the point where the nerve of the eye enters the eyeball. It was noted that with the rice diet these conditions improved and a number of those patients who were blind as a result of the hemorrhage regained their eyesight to such an extent that they were able to read fine print.

Of course a person on a diet of this type must be kept under the watchful eye of the physician because the diet does not supply all of the necessary food parts. The physician can make such changes in the diet as he deems necessary in light of the patient's reactions to it.

Tomorrow, Dr. Bundesen will discuss "Sinus Infections."

Author's Birthday Anniversary 'THOUGHT'

When you look behind and live behind, in the thought of the sickness, weakness or indisposition of yesterday, you are actually making the conditions for having the same physical troubles. When, at the day's commencement, you look before, in thought, to the new thing, when you think of the health you had at the time your lack of vigor began, then you are making the conditions for realizing such health and strength.

Why, here under our noses is the greatest of all motive powers! Human thought is a real element, a real force, darting out like electricity from every man or woman's mind, injuring or relieving, killing or curing, building fortunes or tearing them down, working, for good or ill, every moment, night and day, asleep or awake, carving, molding and shaping people's faces, making them ugly or agreeable.

One day the Act of Chapultepec nearly passed as a treaty. U. S. delegates felt this would gum the works for Senate ratification of the Dumbarton Oaks plan, so Sen. Austin (R-VT), in a split-second move, got a 24-hour postponement of action. This gave time to reword the document as an "agreement"—not a treaty—to fit U. S. constitutional requirements.

Austin simply said he couldn't understand the Spanish text and wanted a translation. Besides, he said, since Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) was arriving the next day, he'd like to wait for his advice.

HELEN COMES HOME

by Watkins E. Wright

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

ZOE WALKED slowly back across the field to the house. She remembered once again that farewell scene she had shared with Mike Waterman. "I've decided to settle in Washington for good—go on living here even after the war, with trips elsewhere, of course—vacations and all that," he had said. Yes, she thought, and the woman who was married to him would share that pleasant, exciting life. Mike's wife wouldn't have to plod across a muddy field to argue with him—beg him to join her on a week-end party. "Mrs. Michael Waterman, Chevy Chase, Washington, D. C. . . . Mrs. Paul Wentworth, A Farm, Lakeville, N. C., R. F. D. 1. What a contrast in addresses!"

Then she suddenly remembered her mother. . . . Darkened rooms—morose, sick, headaches. . . . Never really having a home. . . . Moved from hotel to hotel. Never staying in any one place any length of time. "Darling," her mother had once said, "I want you to be pappy, and there's no happiness to be had with a man you can't respect." And at another time, she'd said: "See something of life besides poverty—and small towns. Marry a man with enough to keep you comfortable—a man who can give you a real home, but one who also takes you to exciting places. I wouldn't have minded moving so much if only your father had moved forward—to bigger and bigger places. But he didn't—just one dull small town after another." And recalling her mother's words and advice, Zoe sighed. She had honestly thought that in marrying Paul she was marrying the sort of man her mother had in mind. But evidently she had made a terrible mistake. So far as Paul was concerned she could stick in Lakeville or out on the plantation until she shivered up and died of sheer unadulterated boredom.

She quickened her step. Her chin went up. Her shoulders went back. Mike Waterman was probably the man her mother was thinking about—or, anyway, not knowing Mike. Her mother had his type in mind when she was visualizing her daughter's life. Mike Waterman, the man who did things, went places. Paul Wentworth, the man who ran a plantation and stood still. Men—men—men. . . . She hurried into the living room, sat down at the desk. She drew out a sheet of notepaper bearing the embossed words "Wentworth Near the Pines," and began writing a letter of acceptance. "Dear Mike: I shall be delighted to come up for your house warming. But my husband has to decline with regret. It is the planting season, and he is—"

While back at the Miller plant, all that morning, excitement ran high. It continued after working hours, when Philip stopped off at the Miller homestead to talk about the award with Miss Minerva, Helen and Aggie.

"I hope," Philip said, "that they will give us time enough to get all decorated."

"How do you mean?" Helen asked.

"Gosh, child," Philip laughed, "haven't you seen the newsreels and the pictures in the papers? How shipyards and factories are all hung with flags and bunting—with a band playing!"

"You mean we're going to have a band?"

"You bet we are."

"If all the members," said Miss Minerva, "haven't been drafted, I'm afraid that members are left as such old-timers they'll have to come on crutches and in roller chairs."

"Be that much more impressive," said Philip. "Especially with Mr. Carlson leading—a veteran of the other world war."

Aggie said: "I knew something would happen if I came down to work for the plant!"

"You don't mean you're taking all the credit, do you?" said Helen.

Aggie chuckled. "Well, why not?" she said. "You didn't get the 'E' until I did start to work, did you?"

"Maybe Aggie is luck," said Philip. "Come over here, Aggie, and let me touch you."

"Luck, my eye!" said Miss Minerva. "Hard work's done it. That, and fighting priorities and threatened strikes." She shook her head slowly. "I shall frame the letter—and pray that soon I shall be manufacturing axe handles."

"How about your speech?" said Philip.

"You can help me with that one evening when you're free. I don't want it to be too flowery—nor too much like a fireside chat."

"And," said Helen, "for heaven's sake, don't talk down to people."

"You won't have to worry about that," said Miss Minerva. "The workers deserve most of the credit—and I shall tell them so."

Philip got up to go. "Why don't you stay to supper?" Miss Minerva said.

"Thanks. But I've missed too many meals at home here of late," Helen replied. "My son will begin to think he's a war orphan for a fact."

"I tell you what do," Miss Minerva said. "Come in Sunday for noon-day dinner and bring Dick with you. I promised him he could explore our attic. And while he's doing that, you and I can be writing my speech."

"It's a date," said Philip. He turned to Helen. "Come on," he said, "and drive out with me. Aunt Duley's having fried chicken and dumplings."

"You make my mouth water," said Helen. "But she's not prepared for company."

"Aunt Duley's always prepared for company," said Philip. "Besides, if you don't come, Dick and I will be eating fried chicken all day tomorrow."

"Do you mind, Aunt Minerva?" Helen said. "Can you and Aggie spare my company for a while?"

"Go long with you!" said Miss Minerva. "Aggie and I'll play a little the two-handed rummy. She's been teaching me a new way to play it."

"Maybe the two of you would like to come along also," said Philip.

"Thanks," said Aggie. "Me for something comfortable and a quiet evening with Miss Minerva. She's spilling me. I don't know how I'll ever manage to live in my own home when the tenants move out."

"Don't let 'em move out," said Miss Minerva. "This house is big enough for all of us. Besides, your ration book comes in handy. Zeke says with his book, and our three, he can get along splendidly without stinking too much."

"It's silly of you," said Helen, "to move into the cottage. Bank the rent, or buy bonds."

Philip said: "A good idea, Aggie. He took Helen's hand. 'If I can ever persuade this girl here to marry me, Miss Minerva will need company. Won't you, Miss Minerva?'"

"Exactly," she replied. "Aggie can stay right here as long as she can put up with me."

"That," said Aggie, "will be a long, long time, you old darling."

Miss Minerva smiled. "We'll call it 'Spinsters' Retreat'."

"Or 'Maidenly Mansion,'" said Aggie.

Helen moved toward the front door with Philip. "All right then," she said, "I'll dine with Philip and Dick. See you later."

"Don't hurry," Miss Minerva called out after them. "Have fun, you two. Too much work and too little play will make you both dull as dishwater."

Philip turned back to Miss Minerva. He bent and kissed her on the cheek. "Gosh, honey," he said, "you're grand."

"Flashpooh!" said Miss Minerva—but her eyes were shining with pleasure.

In the car, Helen said: "You certainly do have a way with you, my lad, when it comes to women."

"Doesn't seem to get me anywhere with you, though," Philip retorted.

Helen said nothing to this. Philip looked at her as he started the engine. She wore a green ribbon tied about her hair, and in wide, full slacks and a close-fitting sweater, she reminded him of a little girl.

As a usual thing he loathed slacks—especially on women who were plump, and who ought to take a good look at themselves before walking out in them—but on Helen they were fetching. She was slender, not too tall, and she had a charming walk. She didn't stride, nor did she look in the least masculine. Not even slacks could take away from her femininity—that quality which he so deeply admired in a woman.

"Remember the time I told you I could offer you the usual price for your thoughts?" he said presently.

"Yes," said Helen. "It was at the Rainbow Room."

"I can make the same offer now," Philip said. "Still not for sale."

Breweries Sent to Sea in Pacific War

By ERNEST G. FISCHER

LONDON — British tars in the Pacific soon may slake their thirst from seagoing breweries because the British Admiralty believes that an occasional tot of good brew will help them land a knockout blow on the Japanese.

Three of the seagoing breweries—merchant liners which the Admiralty termed "recreation ships"—now are under conversion.

Brewing while sailing results in a saving on bottles and casks and also saves the British tars the annoyance of the pub keepers' insistence upon having the empties returned before full bottles are dispensed.

The admiralty has kept details of construction and capacity of the ships secret but discloses that they are to be floating servicemen's clubs. Shipbuilders said these plants would produce about 72,000 gallons of beer weekly to be sold to the tars at five half pence per pint (a little over four cents).

"Provisioning of beer for men in the forefront of battle is rightly a high priority," said First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander, "and we must push these ships right into the forward battle areas."

Incidentally, British civilians who have been drinking beer of none too high quality are keeping an eye on the Admiralty's "sud ships" project in the hope that the experiment will result in better postwar beers at home.

Suggestive of river showboats, these "recreation ships" are to be entertainment centers, with some resident talent and some artists to be flown to the ships and for two-a-day programs aboard.

Other features of luxury liners, such as movies, library, reading and writing rooms, barber, clothing and tailor shops and soft drink bars are to be included.

America and her "Underground"

We were sitting around after chores the other night talking about the progress of the war. Chad Davis was saying how, in spite of Germany's defeat, there was still the German underground to cope with.

"I don't worry about them," says Sober Hoskins. "So long as we got our own underground in working order."

"What do you mean—our underground?" says Chad. And Sober points out to the fields. "There it is," he says, "under that soil lies the most important weapon that we've got. American crops—from American fields—strengthening our position overseas in a way no other underground can shake."

From where I sit, Chad's absolutely right. Whether it's for the glass of beer that cheers a tired soldier's spirits, or the bread that feeds our armies and our allies, every bit of grain that American farmers harvest is a part of America's great strength.

Potluck Luncheon Highlights Meet Of Presbyterians

The newly organized Westminster Guild of the First Presbyterian Church held its first monthly meeting at the church Wednesday beginning at ten o'clock. The morning session was devoted to meetings of the various circles which met in church. The leaders of each circle took this time to acquaint the members of the method and activities to be carried on during the year.

At noon a most delicious covered dish luncheon was served in the dining room with Mrs. Herbert Clickner, chairman of group one in charge and ably assisted by the members of her group. The tables were artistically decorated with vases of lovely spring flowers. Reverend Abernethy asked the blessing.

The afternoon session began at one-thirty and was held in the church auditorium. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. C. S. Kelly. The opening was a piano number by Mrs. Clickner. Mrs. Kelly gave a few words of greeting turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. D. Young who had the program in charge.

Mrs. Young introduced Miss Mazie Kessler who gave a lovely violin solo accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ralph Gage. Mrs. Kelly called upon the secretary, Miss May Duffee, for the minutes of the March missionary meeting. A note of thanks was also read from Mrs. Neil B. Jones.

Reports were given by chairmen of the various circles and seventy members and guests were reported present. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. C. H. Thoroman. For scripture she read from the book of Isaiah and from Luke and offered prayer.

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar read Kipling's poem, "On the Road to Mandalay."

Mrs. Young announced that Rev. Lewis V. Rodgers, a returned missionary, who now resides in this city and has given many interesting talks here, was the speaker. She also spoke of some lovely hangings that were on display that had been sent to friends here by Ted Ottinger, from India, where he was stationed.

Rev. Rodgers gave a most interesting talk on Burma and its people. He said in Burma there are many religions but most of the Burmese people are Buddhists. Until recently women received no education but now they, too, are being educated.

Rev. Rodgers had on display many pictures and lovely pieces of art work that he had collected. He also displayed and donned some of the attire of Burma men and three young women. Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. Charles Reinke and Mrs. John Sagar, modeled dresses of Burmese women. Especially interesting were the headresses and parasols. Mrs. O. D. Farquhar also modeled one of the gowns of beautiful material.

Rev. and Mrs. Rodgers returned to this country in 1939 having spent 35 years in missionary work in Burma and surrounding country.

WSCS Has Church Day On Wednesday

Church Day was observed Wednesday by the Women's Society of Christian Service at Grace Methodist Church, Wednesday, with the president, Mrs. Rose Hughey presiding during the morning session.

Mrs. B. E. Kelley was at the piano when the group sang a hymn. Mrs. Annetta Rowe had the devotional period for the morning, choosing a theme appropriate to the spring season.

After Mrs. Hughey conducted the regular business session, the group adjourned to the basement for a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Tom Bush's circle members.

Miss Janet Kirk was the soloist for the afternoon's program, singing "Spring Awakening." She was accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Paxson at the piano.

Miss Edith Gardner was guest speaker for the afternoon, her topic being "Church in Europe." She described the oppression of the Christian people by the Nazi which parallels the persecution of the very early Christian. She stated that it "is America's duty to extend democracy wherever possible and the church's duty to share in rebuilding war-torn countries." As a climax to her talk, she delighted the audience with a description of her visit to Guatemala. She told of the scenic beauty of that country and the customs of the natives. While in that country she became acquainted with a Rev. and Mrs. William Hayes and family, Rev. Hayes being a Methodist minister in that country. She read a most interesting letter from Mrs. Hayes, describing a native wedding. It was most gratifying to learn that these natives, through the teaching of Christian missionaries, are coming to worship the real God instead of a pagan god.

Girl Reserves Have Speaker From Ohio State

Assistant Dean of Women Kathryn L. Hopwood, of Ohio State University, Columbus, lectured before the combined groups of both Junior and Senior Girl Reserve Club members in the Little Theater of Washington C. H. High School, Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Her topic was "Vocations for Girls," and this vivacious and fluent speaker greatly interested the large audience with her talk on the industrial and civic fields which will be open to career women after the war. The senior girls were quite interested in what the speaker told, for soon they must make decisions as to their course of college or business training for their chosen field of work. However, the younger girls were as interested, for through her guidance they will be able to plan their groundwork of academic preparations to fit their chosen career. She carefully explained to the girls what fields will have the more opportunities and also, those that will have fewer.

Preceding the introduction of the guest speaker, Ruth Adams, president of the senior club opened the program. Harriett Braun gave the devotionals and the business meeting was brief so as to allow the speaker more time.

Assistant Dean Hopwood has, among major activities along with her work, organized a series of vocational information lectures for the women students under her guidance at Ohio State. This has made her well qualified to give advice as to the future fields of work for aspiring women about to choose a career.

She was accompanied here by Miss Betty Robinson, freshman student at Ohio State University, and also president of Mack Hall, a freshman dorm on Ohio State's campus. Miss Robinson was introduced and made a few brief but appropriate remarks.

Benefit Party Called Success By Alpha Circle

A tidy sum was netted by Alpha Circle, Child Conservation League members, after having held a benefit card party at the Dayton Power and Light club rooms, Wednesday night, beginning at 8 P.M. Mrs. Charles Reinke, chairman of the finance committee, and her committee members are to be congratulated for the successful affair which they planned.

This organization of mothers with young children have devoted their meetings to the study of child care, mentally and physically. However, this study has been continued during war-time along with stimulated interest in civic and philanthropic activities. All these will benefit through the careful use of the funds netted last night.

Twenty-four tables were at play during the evening, at the conclusion of which many awards were presented various women who attended the delightful affair. The club rooms was be-decked with many bowls and plants of spring cut and potted flowers, and the pleasant setting added much to the great enjoyment of the occasion.

Of a total prewar labor force of some ten million industrial workers, France lost an estimated three million to Germany.

TWO INTERESTING revivals mark this season's coat parade. One is the return of the worldly wrap-around coat, so slimming and elegant, the other is the revival of civet fox, but as a fur trimming rather than as a coat pelt. These twain meet in a handsome coat, New York design that makes for the slimmest of silhouettes. Magenta toned woolen makes a handsome background for the beautifully marked fur cuffs which are matched by the turban. The coat has mandarin slashes on either side.

Personals

Mrs. C. V. Lanum had as Wednesday guests, Mrs. C. L. Post of Bexley; Mrs. Hugh Kennedy of Columbus; Mrs. Louis P. Beuna and daughter, Susan, of Gahanna.

Potluck Luncheon Highlights Meet Of Presbyterians

The newly organized Westminster Guild of the First Presbyterian Church held its first monthly meeting at the church Wednesday beginning at ten o'clock. The morning session was devoted to meetings of the various circles which met in church. The leaders of each circle took this time to acquaint the members of the method and activities to be carried on during the year.

At noon a most delicious covered dish luncheon was served in the dining room with Mrs. Herbert Clickner, chairman of group one in charge and ably assisted by the members of her group. The tables were artistically decorated with vases of lovely spring flowers. Reverend Abernethy asked the blessing.

The afternoon session began at one-thirty and was held in the church auditorium. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. C. S. Kelly. The opening was a piano number by Mrs. Clickner. Mrs. Kelly gave a few words of greeting turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. D. Young who had the program in charge.

Mrs. Young introduced Miss Mazie Kessler who gave a lovely violin solo accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ralph Gage. Mrs. Kelly called upon the secretary, Miss May Duffee, for the minutes of the March missionary meeting. A note of thanks was also read from Mrs. Neil B. Jones.

Reports were given by chairmen of the various circles and seventy members and guests were reported present. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. C. H. Thoroman. For scripture she read from the book of Isaiah and from Luke and offered prayer.

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar read Kipling's poem, "On the Road to Mandalay."

Mrs. Young announced that Rev. Lewis V. Rodgers, a returned missionary, who now resides in this city and has given many interesting talks here, was the speaker. She also spoke of some lovely hangings that were on display that had been sent to friends here by Ted Ottinger, from India, where he was stationed.

Rev. Rodgers gave a most interesting talk on Burma and its people. He said in Burma there are many religions but most of the Burmese people are Buddhists. Until recently women received no education but now they, too, are being educated.

Rev. Rodgers had on display many pictures and lovely pieces of art work that he had collected. He also displayed and donned some of the attire of Burma men and three young women. Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. Charles Reinke and Mrs. John Sagar, modeled dresses of Burmese women. Especially interesting were the headresses and parasols. Mrs. O. D. Farquhar also modeled one of the gowns of beautiful material.

Rev. and Mrs. Rodgers returned to this country in 1939 having spent 35 years in missionary work in Burma and surrounding country.

WSCS Has Church Day On Wednesday

Church Day was observed Wednesday by the Women's Society of Christian Service at Grace Methodist Church, Wednesday, with the president, Mrs. Rose Hughey presiding during the morning session.

Mrs. B. E. Kelley was at the piano when the group sang a hymn. Mrs. Annetta Rowe had the devotional period for the morning, choosing a theme appropriate to the spring season.

After Mrs. Hughey conducted the regular business session, the group adjourned to the basement for a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Tom Bush's circle members.

Miss Janet Kirk was the soloist for the afternoon's program, singing "Spring Awakening." She was accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Paxson at the piano.

Miss Edith Gardner was guest speaker for the afternoon, her topic being "Church in Europe." She described the oppression of the Christian people by the Nazi which parallels the persecution of the very early Christian. She stated that it "is America's duty to extend democracy wherever possible and the church's duty to share in rebuilding war-torn countries." As a climax to her talk, she delighted the audience with a description of her visit to Quatemala. She told of the scenic beauty of that country and the customs of the natives. While in that country she became acquainted with a Rev. and Mrs. William Hayes and family. Rev. Hayes being a Methodist minister in that country, she read a most interesting letter from Mrs. Hayes.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Hayes read a most interesting letter from Mrs. Hayes.

CLINTON COUNTY MAN IS MAKING GOOD IN CAPITAL

Bob Bangham Has 'Sparkling Personality' That Is Winning Friends

WASHINGTON, April 5—(P)—They call Bob Bangham a "sparkling personality" down at the War Production Board. That's because this Ohioan is as human as he is efficient.

Bangham, who hails from Wilmington and knows everyone in that area, is doing a big job in the war program. His impressive title is director of the prison war program's office of the office of civilian requirements, of the War Production Board.

He helped write "Prisons in Wartime," a comprehensive review of what men and women convicted of crime are doing for victory. Modestly he says the book was arranged by his office. Its printing was made possible through the cooperation and contributions of the penal industries association along with a group of consultants of WPB who have been active in the prison war effort.

Bob likes one thing about Washington, but it's not the New Deal. He's a staunch Republican. He likes the place because there are a lot of other Ohioans around.

Bangham works hard. He became chief of the prison branch in April, 1944, when Major William H. Burke went into active service.

"Prisons in Wartime" tells that "after careful consultation with leaders in penology, Arthur G. Eaton, director of the government division of the War Production Board, appointed as new chief of the prison war program branch the Hon. Robert B. Bangham of Ohio."

"Mr. Bangham's remarkably versatile career prepared him admirably for the post. College professor of economics, successful business executive, dynamic member of the Ohio Legislature for seven years, and for a year director of finance of the state of Ohio under Governor Bricker, Mr. Bangham entered the field of penology as head of the thriving division of manufactures and sales of the Ohio Department of Public Welfare in 1940."

The book recalls that in December, 1943, Ohio's achievement in prison war production—$1,126,000—topped the record for all states. Bangham is a director of the American Prison Association. The branch is a huge affair. All the federal prement agencies buy things made by prisoners.

As might be expected, the navy and the army lead, taking more than half the total of manufactures and food products sold to federal agencies. Out of a total of $11,724,462 of products sold through one year, the army took $7,697,000.

Next in order were the Maritime Commission, Defense Supplies Corp., Foreign Relief Administration, Coast Guard, Marine Corps and lend-lease.

Bangham reasons this way: "Prison industries furnish the only opportunity of any state, as a commonwealth, to have a direct part in winning the war."

STATE HIGHWAY NETWORK NEARLY HALF COMPLETED

COLUMBUS, Apr. 5—(P)—The State Highway Patrol's high frequency network will be more than half completed by early summer.

Col. George Mingle, Patrol superintendent, said installations are in operation in 11 posts and the Cambridge district headquarters, and that seven others are under construction.

Thirteen additional installations would complete the network, joining district headquarters, posts and cars with two-way communications facilities, he said.

DONALD PARKER WITH ARMY ON ITALIAN FRONT

Outfit Has Been Battling Germans Under Real Difficulties

(Special to the Record-Herald)

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY.
Italy—Private Donald L. Parker of Washington C. H., who came to Italy as a replacement, is serving in an infantry unit that utilized every conceivable means of winter warfare in combatting the Germans on the Fifth Army mountain front during the winter just ended.

He is a member of the 337th "Wolverine" Regiment of the 86th "Custer" Division.

The regiment used many ingenious devices even evacuating the wounded by sled and ski-equipped litterbearers.

Wiremen, hastened to locate breaks in communications lines, traveled on snowshoes while other trouble shooters used skis. The conversion of skis to toboggans for transporting supplies also was a common practice.

During the winter months, many members of the regiment lived in igloos and sentries often gave the appearance of snow dummies.

Installations were shielded by white camouflage blending with the snow-covered background of the Apennine Mountain peaks. Infantrymen, garbed in white parkas, huddled close to the frozen ground to receive last minute briefings before departing on nightly patrols in search of similarly clad enemy ski troops with whom clashes occurred frequently.

Between battles the "snow-bots" of the regiment, commanded by Colonel Oliver W. Hughes, held classes in skiing on snow-cruised mountain slopes, within rifle range of a perplexed foe. This, coupled with individual improvisation of winter sports, proved excellent diversion for the men who fought in white.

Parker is a rifleman. He is the son of Mrs. Carolina M. Parker, whose home is on Route 2, Washington C. H.

Bond Buying Guide Set For Earners As Seventh Loan Boosts 'E' Quotas

LAUSCHE ISSUES PROCLAMATION FOR 7TH DRIVE

Job Ahead Bigger Than Most People Realize, Chairman Halliday Says

As Fayette County, with the nation, faced its largest E bond drive, to begin formally May 14, a guide for wage earners' bond buying was released by Carroll Halliday, chairman of the War Finance Committee here.

The table—really a yardstick for income earners in various wage brackets—suggests how every individual can do his share in this vital home-front war effort through purchase of extra bonds during April, May and June, Halliday said.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche simultaneously issued a proclamation calling on the people of Ohio to support the Seventh War Loan to the limit. The proclamation appears at the right.

"The job ahead of us is far bigger than most of us realize. I know that every resident of Fayette County is ready to do his part to speed the victorious conclusion of the war. One of the ways we can help is to intensify our War Bond purchases during the next three months," Halliday said.

While persons without dependents may be able to set aside more than the suggested figures, persons with several dependents or with other heavy family obligations may be unable to save at the suggested rate, Halliday pointed out. The table includes bonds bought under regular payroll deduction.

Wage Per Month	Subscription Needed	Maturity Value of Bond
$250 and up	$187.50	$250
225-250	150.00	200
210-225	131.25	175
200-210	112.50	150
180-200	93.75	125
140-180	75.00	100
100-140	37.50	50
under $100	18.75	25

AFTER GERMANS BEATEN, WHAT? MOVING TROOPS TO BE BIGGEST JOB

units—men to build camps and airfields, roads, docks and the like. The first equipment will be the stuff they need for these jobs.

Most of these troops will go directly from the ports of northern and Western France, and of Belgium and Holland, across the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal and into the Pacific. The men chosen for this assignment will not get a furlough home between wars.

Some early units will leave from Marseille and other Mediterranean ports and voyage east by way of the Suez Canal. Depending on where they are needed, some airforce units will fly to India and points beyond by way of the Middle East. General Arnold says most of the airforce will go directly to the Pacific.

After these first movements of service units, with possibly a few combat units included, the great stream of American soldiers in Europe will flow across the Atlantic to New York and other big East Coast ports.

Those coming home that way will include men to be demobilized and men to be furloughed.

This is what will happen according to present plans:

STATE OF OHIO
Executive Department
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
Columbus
PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, our nation is entering a most critical period in its struggle against tyranny and oppression, and

WHEREAS, the present economy and future prosperity of the nation is threatened by the unguarded use of our earnings and savings at this time, and

WHEREAS, the amount of purchasable goods is constantly diminishing while earnings and accumulations of money are greater than ever before in our history, and

WHEREAS, the financing of the war effort constitutes our first and most important responsibility on the home front if we are to keep faith with our sons and daughters in service, and

WHEREAS, the proper use and investment of our money at this time will help assure the maintenance of the homes, communities and opportunities to which these boys and girls of ours constantly dream of returning,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Frank J. Lausche, Governor of the State of Ohio, do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1945 as "GET READY MONTH" for the Seventh War Loan Drive which will officially and nationally be conducted during May and June. I urge each and every citizen of this state to take solemn account of his financial ability to support the war effort by investing his money in War Bonds to speed the victory and insure the restoration of normal peacetime living. I particularly urge employers and employees to fully cooperate with the plans for launching this "get ready" period with a special drive for "extra" payroll deduction starting on Monday, April 2nd. I also urge the various service and luncheon clubs of the state and the school principals, teachers and pupils to lead every possible assistance in the carrying out of their assigned task in this vitally important program to assure its complete and outstanding success.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Ohio to be affixed at Columbus this First day of March in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-five.

Frank J. Lausche
BY THE GOVERNOR

1. From the ports where they disembark the men of both classes will be routed by train to a score of big Army "personnel centers" throughout the country. Returning veterans will go to the camps nearest their homes. If a man is to be discharged, he will get his final papers there and transportation home. If he is to be furloughed, he will get transportation.

2. Each man on furlough will have up to about a month's leave. He must report back to the personnel center.

3. After further training, the veteran will be sent to Army units destined for the Pacific. The probability is that he will move out to San Francisco or some other West Coast port. If those ports become too crowded, Atlantic or gulf outlets will be used also.

Under this system it will take about three months to move a man from Europe to the United States, give him leave, get him equipped and back into a combat unit and put him on board a ship. How many men will be demobilized and how many will get furloughs? No competent authority in the War Department here would venture an on-the-record estimate. Too much depends on what is happening in the Pacific. It is possible to report why it will take so long to bring these men home.

Everything will have to start from deep inside France, Belgium, Holland, Germany or Italy. The railroad systems of those countries are inadequate. Port facilities are still sharply limited. Shipping must be used also to transport civilian supplies to liberated Europe and to feed the Pacific War at a mounting rate.

Present plans call for making full use of British shipping and captured German vessels as well as all available ships of other countries.

It takes 75 trains, totaling 2,700 passengers and freight cars, to move a full armored division with its 10,000 men and 3,700 tanks, trucks, jeeps, etc.

It takes 29 passenger trains and four freight trains to move the 15,000 men of an infantry division and their equipment. (At least 64 divisions are known to be in Europe today.)

It takes 15 Liberty ships to transport overseas just the equipment of an armored division. A big liner like the Queen Mary may carry 15,000 men a trip, but the average troop transport can haul only 3,000 to 4,000. One of the jobs will be to convert some cargo carriers to troop ships.

Men and equipment will not move out of Europe at the same rate.

A few troops will start coming over the first month after V-E Day. The trickle of men will swell into a heavy stream by the end of the third month, but much equipment will have to be reconditioned in Europe.

Many of the more delicate instruments of war will have to be specially packaged against the Pacific climate. The peak flow of materials to the Pacific therefore will not start from Europe until six to eight months after V-E Day.

Hauling the troops in this country will put a heavy new strain on American railroads. However, Army transportation authorities estimate it will not be greater than it was at the peak period of transportation to East Coast ports when preparations were under way for the invasion of Europe.

$15,784.97 FROM JESSE EYMAN ESTATE DISTRIBUTED

ANNUAL REPORT BY V. R. M'COY IS ANNOUNCED

County and Each Township Receive Liberal Sums From Proceeds

Distribution of proceeds totaling $15,784.97 has been made by Valdo R. McCoy, trustee of the estate of Jesse Eymann, public benefactor who died some 20 years ago and left his estate in trust, the income from which is to be distributed annually to charity and for other commendable purposes.

Of the total amount distributed in the account filed in Probate Court, $7,257.05 is from the stocks and bonds account, and $8,527.92 from the farm account. It is noted in the report account filed that investments are the same as those in the previous account, with exception of $20,000 in War Savings Bonds from proceeds of Federal Land Bank bonds redeemed, and $2,200 in War Bonds.

Under the distribution of proceeds made by McCoy, each township in the county receives $297.62 from the stocks and bonds and $300 from the farm proceeds, or a total of $597.62 from the estate.

From the farm proceeds the county is given $2,775.97 for the poor fund, and the Children's Home is given $2,526.95 to be used to further the educational advantages of the children in the home, such as done under provisions of the distribution for a number of years.

Total receipts from stocks and bonds reached $27,645.15, and $15,392.64 from the farm.

$20,000 from Federal Bank bonds redeemed was invested in War Savings Bonds, it is noted. Paid out of the farm account was $8,321.14 for expenses, with $750 paid to McCoy as trustee for administering the trusteeship, and $369 from the stocks and bonds fund for similar service, or a total of $1119 for his services during the year.

Of the total amount received from stocks and bonds, $20,388.10 was paid out or reinvested. Total farm receipts were $1,799.58 from all sources and including the balance carried over from last year.

Distribution from the stocks and bonds account was made as follows:

Ashland College, $1,000; Alice Kerns, $100; Missionary Board of Brethren Church, foreign and home missions, $897; superannuated ministers of Brethren Church, $1,141.65; Old Peoples and Children's Home, Florida, Ill., $1,141.65; each township in Fayette County, $297.62. Total, $7,257.05.

Distribution from farm proceeds:

Friends Church, $200; Red Cross, $25; county treasurer for poor fund, $2,775.97; Children's Home, $2,526.95; township trustees, $300 each. Total, $8,527.92.

Each year receipts from the estate are divided in almost similar proportion to the various organizations, etc., and the revenue from his estate, which has reached huge figures, has been used to advantage by all recipients.

Threat Hangs Over Yankees As Sluggers Eyed by Army

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 5—(AP)—Uncle Sam continued to shape the 1945 pennant races today as threatened loss of First Baseman Nick Eiten, last year's American League home run champion, struck a body blow at the hopes of the New York Yankees.

Eiten's reclassification to 1-A was hardly a surprise to Joe McCarthy. The Yank skipper had expected such tidings and planned accordingly but coming on top of similar news on Oscar Grimes and Johnny Lindell's imminent induction it may force considerable shuffling.

If Eiten and Lindell go the Yankee power of bygone days will be a one-man act by George Starnes, 4-F but also up for re-examination. If Grimes also goes, McCarthy will be up against it for a first sacker.

Kernerson's six shutout innings in yesterday's 8-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox must have been some comfort to Marce Joe, whose title chances lean heavily on the pitching staff.

Other Training Camps
Boston Red Sox—Joe Cronin impressed by ground covering ability of Ben Steiner shifted the rookie to shortstop. Skeeter Newsome will go to third and Jack Tobin to second.

Boston Braves—Bob Coleman having trouble finding best outfield trio of many capable performers. Arrival of Elmer Nieman sent Ballhawk Carden Gillenwater to bench.

Philadelphia Athletics—Bobo Newsome nominated self to pitch season's opener for A's against Washington, old Connie Mack in phone call from his "personal."

On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 5—(AP)—Note to sports promoters, managers, athletic directors and others expecting to get a lot of top-flight athletes back right after the war ends: Forget it. Chick Meehan pointed this out the other day in explaining why the "other" proposed pro football league was making a mistake by signing coaches and players in the services at fancy prices.

The navy's announcement that athletic talent will be concentrated in combat areas for the entertainment of service men during the remainder of the war bears out Chick's idea. There's the remark by an officer in the army's special services branch: "Athletics will become more and more important as combat becomes less."

The services won't be in any hurry to release a man who is useful to entertain enlisted men or to teach them the games they'll be playing after the fighting ends.

Tony Janino, the Youngstown, O., lightweight, was rated a good baseball prospect before he took up boxing. Tony's bout with Humberto Zavala at St. Nick's tomorrow probably will do $14,000 at $6 tops, which explains why he didn't stick with baseball.

The Curlew, Ia., high school girl's basketball team, which reached the state final tourney in Des Moines, scraped the bottom of the girlpower barrel to make it. The team was composed of two seniors, a junior, a soph, a seventh-grader and a sixth-grader. The coach was the school custodian.

Observation Post
Some experts see a connection between the resignation of Jimmy Byrnes as war mobilizer and the announcement that a new baseball commissioner may be chosen within a couple of weeks. In one way Jimmy is well qualified for the job. Even Judge Landis never was tougher on horse racing.

OPTIMISM GROWS FOR PHILLIES

By J. HERBERT ALTSCHULL

WILMINGTON, Del., April 5—(AP)—Robert M. (Bob) Carpenter may have whiffed one when he predicted in 1944 that his Philadelphia Phillies would be a pennant contender in five years.

Joining the wartime speedup program, the Phils have entered a bid for that flag this year. General Manager Herb Pennock says "we're an improved ball club and we'll be playing to win."

"We could easily afford to trade Al Gerheuser to the Pirates for Vince Dimaggio, Kenny Raffensberger, Vermont Kennedy, Charley Schanz, Kewpie Barrett, Whit Wyatt and the rest make up one of the finest pitching staffs in the league."

"I think Dimaggio is the best outfielder in the league. Sure he strikes out a lot. He's a free swinging hitter. Babe Ruth was the greatest slugger of all time and he was a free swinging hitter."

"Vince is going to hit a lot of home runs this season. Our young infielders, Granville and Garvin Hamner, Fred Daniels, Bitty Mott and Ralph Caballero have speed, hustle, ambition and determination. We're looking for Jimmy Fox to play a lot of first base and help settle the boys."

Veteran Gus Mancuso and Andy Seminick, up from Buffalo, probably will do most of the catching. In addition to Dimaggio, Pennock has Outfielders Jimmy Waddell, Coaker Triplet, Rene Montague and Rookie Vance Dinges.

Philadelphia Phillies—Curtis Bay slammed three hurlers for 7-6 edge. Phils picked up 14 hits, including homer by Andy Seminick.

Washington Senators—Willis Layne's pinch homer with two on helped Senators shade Norfolk Naval Training Station, 8-7.

Cleveland Indians—First Baseman Mickey Rocco came to terms, due today freeing Ed Carnett and Paul O'Dea for outfield.

Brown Aces Plan To Stay On War Jobs

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., April 5—(AP)—Finding replacements for starting pitchers Benny Galehouse and Bob Muncler is Manager Luke Sewell's biggest problem as the St. Louis Browns prepare to defend their first American League title.

The two righthanders who have both indicated they will remain on war jobs this year, won 22 games during the 1944 pennant campaign.

"It will be some time after the season starts before my pitching staff can be put in order," Sewell said today.

He has three good veterans to form the backbone of a starting staff—Nelson Potter, Jack Kramm and Sig Jakucki. This trio won 49 of the Browns' 89 victories last year. Potter's 19 triumphs was the third best record in the league.

Most likely candidates for the other two starting jobs are Al Lamachia, Tex Shirley, Earl Jones and Al Hollingsworth.

"Lamachia looks a lot better this spring than when he was for trial last year," Sewell said. "Hollingsworth has shown me his best work in two years during this training session."

The veteran Hollingsworth and Rookie Jones are lefthanders. Al won five, lost seven for the Browns last year while Jones won 10, lost six for Toledo, Lamachia won 12, lost three for the same club. Shirley won five, lost four for the champs.

The Browns have 13 mound candidates in camp, all with at least one year of class double A experience. Sewell has besides those already mentioned, righthanders Johnny Miller, George Caster; portiders Weldon West, Sam Zoldak, Clyde Humphrey, Chet Johnson.

Bucks Book Opener
COLUMBUS, O., April 5—(AP)—Ohio State University's football team will open its 1945 season September 22 at Iowa City with the Iowa Senhaws as an opposition, the athletic board announced last night.

Clean Sweep Is Turned In By Gremlins

The top-flight Gremlins scored a perfect clean sweep over the Aeronauts in Wednesday night's session of the API Women's League at the Main Street Alleys.

The Gremlins had no trouble at all in rolling winning scores in all three games.

The Helicopter and Glider kglers turned in the only contested match of the evening, with the Helicopters winning the end games and the Gliders walking home with the middlewin.

Another triple victory was tallied by the Flying Fortresses against the Bombers. Both teams had one blind bowler and the bombers came within an inch of taking the first game in the alleys.

The Owls had an easy three wins—a forfeit from the P-38's. The game Owls rolled the match anyway with Oma Warner coming out with the highest score.

Heard about the Pan-a-min Plan?

The Pan-a-min Plan calls for good hens, good feed and care, and Pan-a-min. Its goal is more efficient egg production.

Pan-a-min is the key in this plan because it supplies tonics that help the bird make better use of feed and supplies minerals essential in egg production. Pan-a-min Farm lays as many as 23 more eggs per bird per year.

We believe the Pan-a-min Plan can help you step up the egg efficiency of your hens. We can supply the Pan-a-min.

any state department except the welfare. The measure, which would not become effective until six months after the war's end, is sponsored by Rep. Pat J. Dunn (D) of Tuscarawas County.

The House also passed a bill exempting war veterans from paying the 50-cent fee for peddlers' licenses.

The Senate conservation committee recommended passage of a bill carrying $100,000 for the purchase of 3,500 acres in Hanover Township, Ashland County, for a soldiers' memorial forest. The author is Senator Tom V. Moorehead (R) of Zanesville.

The Ohio State Chamber of Commerce expressed opposition to the bill passed by the Senate which would increase the appropriation for public schools by $6,780,000.

The Chamber of Commerce said the increase would boost the state's appropriation for schools for the next biennium $17,000,000 over 1943-44.

The state highway patrol would be authorized to increase its force from 300 men to 500 under a bill recommended for passage last night by the House highways committee.

Rep. Craig D. Slagle (D) of Gallipolis, the author, said the additional strength was needed to cope with extra heavy traffic after the war ends.

operator. The New York sessions were recessed until Tuesday to permit the operators to study the demands. One was for a 10-cent-a-ton royalty for medical and "economic protection," a request that would add about $5,500,000 to the $60,000,000 the United Mine Workers would receive from a soft coal royalty.

While absenteeism in soft coal mines declined yesterday, it still was widespread as Lewis returned to Washington to pick up negotiations with bituminous operators.

Failure to agree on contract negotiations would send the entire case to the War Labor Board for decision on Lewis's demands.

The chances are considered that before the month is out the anthracite negotiations also will be abandoned and the War Labor Board asked to decide that case too.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, April 5—(AP)—Profit cashing following several days of rising prices caused earnings in grain futures markets today. Offerings increased after announcement that Russia had denounced its neutrality pact with Japan.

Wheat was up as much as 14 cents at the start but the bulge lasted only a few minutes. The May contract was about steady but the off options at times were down more than a cent. At the finish wheat was 1/2 higher to 1 cent lower than yesterday's close.

mouth the tide came up and covered it. We perched up on rocks above the water line and sweated out the Japs and the tide. Towards dusk I swam under water out beyond the surf for a look around. The Nips were scrambling around the hill hunting us. But just before dark they left and when the tide lowered we got the boat out, ran the surf and escaped."

With the aid of their information the battalion assaulted Simara three days later and captured it, killing all of the more than 100 Japs with virtually no losses. The "tall blonde men" had disappeared—apparently escaped to another island in a small boat.

Less nerve-racking but equally successful was the reconnaissance led by First Lt. R. B. Beach, Bellingham, Wash., before a similar assault on Romblon island in the Mid-Philippines—also by the 19th Regiment.

Beach's party scoured Romblon for two days, got all information needed on enemy strength and positions, and withdrew undetected. Once they lay for two hours on a hill above Romblon town within 200 yards of the Nip garrison headquarters building.

When the island was assaulted in force almost 80 Japanese were wiped out with the loss to us of one man.

Others on Beach's patrol were Pfc. Joseph Soos, Jr., 3601 East Chicago, Ind.; Pfc. Kenneth La Rosch, 215 W. 24th St., Wilmington, Del.

BYRNES IS CRITICIZED FOR RESIGNING WAR JOB

WASHINGTON, April 5—(AP)—The right of responsible officials to resign from key war assignments while workers are expected to stay on their jobs is questioned by Rep. Earl Lewis, Republican from St. Clairsville, O.

Hitting specifically at James Byrnes, who resigned as war mobilizer, Lewis said "resignations in high places will set a bad example for thousands of war workers who also would like to prepare for peacetime living."

EDWARD E. THACKER DIES IN SABINA

Funeral Services Will Be Held Friday at 2 P. M.

Edward Ellsworth Thacker, 81, died Wednesday at 7 P. M. at his home in Sabina. He had been ill with a heart ailment for some time.

A former resident of Reeseville, Thacker had moved to Sabina five years ago.

Surviving besides his widow are one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Armstrong of Cuba and one brother, Frank Thacker of Fort Payne, Ala.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 P. M. at the Littleton Funeral Home. Rev. J. C. Williams, pastor of the Sabina Methodist Church, will be in charge. Burial will be in the Lees Creek Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. E. ROBINSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Phillips Robinson were held Wednesday at 2 P. M. at the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Rev. Arthur George and Rev. E. E. Beverly were in charge of the services.

The many flowers were cared for by Wilma Harper, Florence Harper, Ruth Harper and Minnie Sue Stone.

Miss Monnet Dickerson and Miss Edna Dickerson sang the two hymns "When I Have Gone the Last Mile of the Way" and "In the Garden," with Mrs. Alta Estel at the piano.

Pallbearers were Omer Harper, Harley Harper, John Arnold, Clifford Siders, Roscoe Vandine, and Earl Armstrong. Burial was made in the Washington C. H. Cemetery under the direction of Cox and Parrett.

TAX PAYMENTS

County Treasurer Willis McCoy announces that payment of real estate taxes in Fayette County is well up to the amount expected at this time in the semi-annual payment period.

He states that payments to date for this period total $165,000 although part of this amount includes a full year's payment by several real estate owners who decided to pay the taxes due next June also while paying the so-called December taxes. A total of $206,510 in taxes is to be collected for the tax paying period which closes on April 14.

Treasurer McCoy urges that those who have not yet paid will help themselves as well as his office by paying before the last day or two of the collection period in order to avoid confusion and delays.

FIGHTING MEN LOOK TO HOME TO WIN PEACE

Letter to Conner Farm Women Brings Challenge From Navy Officer

"While the boys on the seas and at the front are winning the fight, we are looking to you and other organizations at home to win the peace."

That is an excerpt from a letter written by Lt. (jg) Robert G. Hall, USNR, to the Conner Farm Women's Club thanking them for one of the Navy kit bags the club made for the Red Cross.

The letter follows in full: "Thank you so much for the package or ditty bag full of so many useful gifts. It is a great pleasure to know that the people at home are thinking of us. I can speak for all the boys in my gun crew in this matter as they often speak of the generosity of the American Red Cross and also the Canadian Red Cross. The latter furnished us with the only presents received last Christmas Day."

"While the boys on the seas and at the front are winning the fight we are looking to you and other organizations at home to win the peace."

"Thank you again and again for your thoughtfulness and diligent work."

GUARD COMPANY SATISFACTORY, INSPECTOR SAYS

Capt. Don L. Caldwell of Fifth Service Command Inspecting Officer

Fayette County's Company H of the Ohio State Guard today has a satisfactory rating after the annual inspection Wednesday night in the Armory.

Capt. Don L. Caldwell of the fifth service command in Columbus was the inspecting officer. The inspection included ratings on efficiency in the field (such as helping out at the Portsmouth flood), equipment and records. The company is inspected annually.

While there is a "very satisfactory" rating higher than the satisfactory tag the company here received, few companies ever receive it, Capt. Charles V. Sexton, explained. "They just don't get that good," he said.

Of the 60 men in Company 51 were at the Armory for the inspection, Capt. Sexton said. He explained a list of the personnel of the guard company was not available. Other officers are First Lt. Arthur H. Matson and Second Lt. John T. Thomas.

Visiting officers were Col. Earl W. Brannon of Columbus, regimental commander; Lt. Col. Albert B. Rankin of London, battalion commander; Lt. J. K. Hudson and Lt. J. R. Martin of Lancaster.
